Brief Report

The event started off by decorating Ramanujan according to the Among Us theme. The coloured cellophane papers over the lights gave the floors a very mysterious look. It changed the vibe a lot. People came as early as 7 pm, and loved how the décor instantly made the event look well thought-of. The games went on as planned (even smoother than expected) and everybody was immersed in the game. People had a fantastic time trying to figure out who the Impostor(s) was, and it was very entertaining to see the Impostor kill people and watch other people argue.

Logistics-wise, everything went extremely smoothly. People were able to use WhatsApp as the primary mode of communication, and even when they weren't, we had Club members coming into the rooms and announcing Emergency Meetings.

Overall, it was an extremely fun event that left everyone charmed and delighted. People will surely expect the Astronomy Club to do more of these events, as we have set the standard quite high.
