Brief Report

The FLAME Astronomy Club, in collaboration with the FLAME Trekking Club, organized an unforgettable overnight camping trip at Mulshi, followed by a trek to Devkund Waterfall.

The adventure began with a cosy campfire dinner, after which we led sky observation sessions, engaging in discussions on space conspiracy theories, constellation origin stories and an intense game of Mafia under the vast, starlit sky. While the telescope was being set up, participants bonded over stories and laughter in the darkness.

Back at the campsite, the night continued with singing, an Antakshari session, and an impromptu dance by the bonfire, making for an energetic and joyful experience. At sunrise, the group enjoyed a peaceful morning, followed by breakfast, before heading back to campus with amazing memories. The trip was a perfect blend of adventure, learning, and camaraderie, making it one of the most cherished events of the year.
